highrisk.news

Weekly digest

The week in high-risk industries

Week 47, 2026 (16–22 November)

5 stories inside · swipe

1 Crypto

TRUMP Meme Coin Hits New Low After US Midterms

The TRUMP token fell to an all-time low of $0.896 and is down almost 40% since election day, as analysts point to congressional scrutiny, weak demand and token unlocks.

2 Nutra

Pfizer China and Haleon partner on weight management beyond GLP-1 drugs

Pfizer China and Haleon announced a strategic partnership at CIIE in Shanghai, with a joint consensus on nutritional support for weight management and new Centrum and Benefiber products.

Dating

IBJ Revenue Up 45.5% in First Nine Months of 2026 as Matchmaking Grows

Japanese matchmaking firm IBJ grew nine-month revenue 45.5% to ¥21.74 billion. Its IBJ Online service, launched in October 2025, has passed 40,000 members.

4 Fintech

MoonPay Applies for US National Trust Bank Charter to Expand Custody and Stablecoin Business

Crypto payments firm MoonPay has applied to the OCC for a national trust bank charter based in Miami Beach, Florida, as crypto firms seek federal charters amid political scrutiny.

5 Gambling

Federal Judge Denies CFTC Bid to Block New York Action Against Kalshi

A federal judge rejected the CFTC's emergency request to block New York's enforcement action against Kalshi. A state court hearing on the attorney general's restraining order request is set for November 23.

highrisk.news

Read the full digest

highrisk.news/weekly/2026-W47

Daily news for iGaming, betting, payments, crypto, dating and nutra — plus PSP outage alerts on Telegram: t.me/highrisk_media